

Girl's Bedside Table

The inventory (^ ^)

The numbered catalogue shows the contents of A Girl's Bedside Table during the late 2000s.

The girlhood relics were collected from my own bedside table, friends and ex-boyfriends. Other items have been donated by my peers when asked about significant memories from their adolescence. An example of this is a Pink Computer Mouse (12.), gifted to my friend by their teenage boyfriend to play Runescape together. Every object is meaningful and symbolic of unspoken womanhood milestones: such as one's first push-up bra, diet trick and unsupervised access to the internet.
